

What to say when someone asks.

Your comments will fill up with health questions. Here is what you can answer, and what you hand to us.

Built for the questions that actually turn up: medication, pregnancy, whether it is a laxative, how long it takes. Open the one you need. You are not expected to read this end to end.

Last updated 6 October 2026. Anything not covered here, message Humza. Never guess on a health question.

READ THIS BIT

The two rules everything else follows from

1. You are not the person who decides if it is safe for someone else. Not for their medication, not for their condition, not for their pregnancy. The answer is always that they check with their GP or pharmacist. Saying so makes you the trustworthy one, not the unhelpful one.
2. Never tell anyone to change, stop or skip something a doctor gave them. Not in a video, not in a comment, not in a DM. No exceptions, no matter how the question is phrased.

Say this, not that

Most videos that get pulled are pulled over a handful of words. Swapping them costs you nothing and keeps your account clean.

DON'T SAY	SAY INSTEAD	WHY
It fixes it · cures · treats · heals	"It supports my digestion" · "it keeps me moving" · "it helps me stay regular"	Those are medical claims. We support, we do not treat.
It helped me lose weight	Leave weight out of it. The story is comfort and being regular.	This is the single biggest cause of violations on our product. See the last section.
Clinically proven	"The ingredients are backed by research"	We cannot say the finished product is clinically proven.
Detox · cleanse · flush	"Support" · "keep things moving"	Banned for us. It is also the language that dates the product.
It's safe with your medication	"Check with your prescriber or pharmacist before adding anything new"	You cannot make a safety call on someone else's prescription. Do not take that on.
My gut journey	Just say what happened.	"Journey" is a banned word across everything WildGut.
Ozempic · Wegovy · Mounjaro	"my GLP-1" · "the injection" · "weight loss injection"	Brand drug names get flagged and rejected automatically.
Kilos of waste · pounds of build-up	"Backed up" · "things weren't moving" · "felt heavy"	It reads as a weight claim, and it is exactly the kind of line that gets pulled.

DON'T SAY	SAY INSTEAD	WHY
14-day cleanse · a course · finish the pack and you're done	"It's a daily habit"	There is no finish line. People stay on it.

OPEN THE ONE YOU NEED

When a follower asks you...

Answers you can use as written. The green box is a reply you can paste straight into a comment.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

"I take [medication]. Can I take this?"

"I'm pregnant" or "I'm breastfeeding"

"I have IBS" or "I have [a condition]"

"Can my teenager take it?" or "What age is it for?"

"Are there side effects?"

HOW IT WORKS

"Is it a laxative?"

"Will it make me run to the loo?"

"How many do I take?"

"How long until it works?"

"Can I take it forever?"

"What's actually in it?"

"Is it vegan? Gluten free?"

THE AWKWARD ONES

"Does it help you lose weight?"

"I'm on a weight loss injection"

"How much do you get paid for this?"

"Is this a scam?" or "does it actually work?"

WHAT'S IN IT

The ingredients, and what each one does

Colon Reset has eleven plant ingredients. These are the core ones. This is here so you understand the product and can explain it in your own words when someone asks. You do not need to list them in your videos.

The short version: rhubarb gets your gut muscles moving, glucomannan keeps things soft, and aloe vera keeps it comfortable. The rest help digestion along and feed the good bacteria in your gut.

THE THREE THAT DO THE HEAVY LIFTING

Rhubarb

Root extract

Gets things moving

Rhubarb root has natural plant compounds that gently prompt the muscles in your gut wall to squeeze. That squeezing is called peristalsis. It is how your gut pushes waste along.

Glucomannan

Fibre from konjac root

Keeps things soft

A fibre that soaks up water in your gut and turns into a soft gel. Waste that sits too long dries out and gets hard to pass. This keeps it softer, so it moves through easier.

Aloe vera

Leaf

Keeps it comfortable

Used for centuries to soothe the gut. It helps things pass through comfortably, rather than being forced. It is a big part of why there is no rush to the loo.

THE SUPPORTING INGREDIENTS

Sugar beet fibre

Adds bulk, feeds good bacteria

A natural fibre that gives your gut something to work with. Part of it also feeds the good bacteria that live in your gut.

Ginger root

Helps digestion along

Helps food move on from your stomach. A long-time favourite for easing bloating and wind.

Dandelion root

Feeds the good bacteria

Naturally rich in inulin, a fibre your good gut bacteria feed on. Used for generations to support digestion.

Cayenne pepper

A warm kick for digestion

Its heat comes from capsaicin, which is thought to help wake up digestion. The amount is small. You won't taste it.

Barberry bark

Nettle leaf

Supports the gut's rhythm

Contains a plant compound called berberine. Used for a long time in herbal blends to support digestion and the gut's natural movement.

A traditional all-rounder

A herb packed with minerals. It has been part of traditional digestive blends for generations.

Black garlic

Garlic, made gentle

Garlic that is slowly aged until it turns black and sweet. Much gentler on the stomach than raw garlic, and rich in antioxidants.

"How does it actually help with bloating?"

When you talk about ingredients, say what they do in your gut, never what they treat. Do not say any ingredient fixes constipation, IBS or anything else. And never link glucomannan to weight. Other brands sell it as a weight loss fibre, and that is exactly the claim that gets videos pulled. If someone asks whether one ingredient is okay with their medication, it is the same answer as always: their GP or pharmacist.

HAND IT OVER

STOP ANSWERING AND SEND IT TO US

When to stop and escalate

- Someone describes severe pain, vomiting, blood, or not having gone for over a week. Tell them to speak to their GP or pharmacist. Do not recommend the product into that.
- Someone asks whether they should stay on or come off a prescription. Not your call and not ours.
- Anyone mentions a reaction they think came from the product. Send it straight to us, same day.
- A question about allergens or an interaction that you cannot answer from this page.
- You get a violation you do not think you deserved. We have a TikTok Shop rep who can look at your account and get it overturned.

Message Humza directly on WhatsApp for anything urgent, or email support@wildgut.co.uk. Better to ask and wait than to guess in a comment.

BACKGROUND

Why the weight rule matters most

Of everything on this page, that is the one worth understanding rather than just following.

THE SITUATION	WHAT IT MEANS FOR YOU
Supplements and weight loss claims together are one of the most heavily policed combinations on the platform.	It is the fastest route to a violation on this product, and violations land on your account rather than ours.
We do not put ad spend behind any video that talks about weight.	So a weight video will not get boosted. You lose the ad-driven commission on it as well as taking the risk.
We work with a small selected group of creators rather than mass sending samples out.	Violations across our retained creators are low, and sticking to this page is most of the reason why.

Last updated 6 October 2026. This page is background information for creators working with WildGut. It is not medical advice.

Anyone on prescription medication, pregnant, breastfeeding, or managing a diagnosed condition should speak to their GP or pharmacist before adding a supplement.

WildGut is a registered trading name of Alpine Ventures Limited.